An estimated 11 million undocumented migrants are living in the United States under the constant threat of sudden deportation. What is it like to grow up in such a situation?

In this documentary animation, three young immigrants tell their stories. Voiced by the actual children and their families, the stories are woven together by spoken word poet José Eduardo Aguilar, also known as Lalo "El Deportee," the film's host and MC.

DIVERSITY SERIES | FALL 2026

Accessibility for Everyone Web & Digital Accessibility

At West Chester University, accessibility is an important part of our commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging. Accessible websites, documents, videos, and course materials help ensure that everyone can fully engage with the WCU experience. WCU provides training, tools, and support to help faculty and staff create digital content that is accessible to all users.

Accessibility Starts with Small, Yet Significant Actions

- Use descriptive links and headings
- Add alternative text to images
- Ensure sufficient color contrast
- Caption videos and multimedia
- Create screen reader-friendly documents
- These practices improve the experience for EVERYONE, and are essential for those using assistive technologies.

WCU Resources

The Teaching & Learning Center offers accessibility guidance, training opportunities, consultations, and access to tools such as YuJa Panorama to support the creation of accessible digital content.

Equity in Action Program

This academic year, the Office of Equal Opportunity & Compliance is proud to offer the Equity in Action Program, a featured learning opportunity within the Institute for Cultural Competence & Inclusive Excellence

Designed for faculty and staff who want to strengthen their ability to foster belonging and inclusion, this six-session program provides practical strategies that can be applied immediately in classrooms, offices, meetings, events, and everyday interactions. Participants will engage with topics such as:

- Recognizing and addressing bias
- Understanding microaggressions and their impact
- Using inclusive language to build belonging
- Creating accessible and welcoming environments
- Equity and compliance essentials
- Navigating difficult conversations

The program will be offered throughout the 2026-2027 academic year, with a combination of in-person and virtual sessions to accommodate a variety of schedules. Space is limited. Interested in participating? Complete the interest form to receive program updates, session dates, and registration information. The deadline to register is Friday, September 11, 2026.
